Faith in God the Prime Need of Hour --
What Faith Has Done Faith Can Do -- The Roll-Call of Heroes Who Took God
At His Word

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS and
EARL L. DOUGLASS

Everybody lives a double life. Outwardly, for all men's seeing, is the daily contact with neighbors and one's own work. Inwardly, is the real life of love and devotion and aspiration.

Of the two, this life of the spirit is the more real and more character-shaping. For we really live only by the power of our faith and love. Significantly, the Scripture speaks of the life "hid with Christ in God." Our life is the market place of work and wages, of contacts and problems, is less than our faith and loves and dreams and relationships.

Polis of public opinion have attained a tremendous popularity; but they seldom touch the real questions at the heart of human life. The answers to all of a soul's questionings in a troubled time is simply, "Have faith in God." The daily prayer of every believer in this time of difficulty, should be "Lord, increase our faith." For it is by faith alone that we are strengthened to meet the difficulties of this perplexed and perplexing period.

How to Get Faith

Our Lesson calls the roll of the Old Testament heroes of faith. They were men who believed God, often in spite of contrary evidence. The record of their faith is food for the soul. This lesson chapter of Hebrews is a great stimulant to faith. For it is the narrative of lives that triumphed because they believed God.

Their was an enabling faith. They were equipped for soul-tests by their simple trust in God. They knew nothing of our modern sciences; but they knew God. They had what the old theologians used to call "an experimental knowledge" of God. They boldly stepped out on the Divine promise, and found them strong and sustaining.

Not by disputes about faith, but by a study of the Bible, and its application to one's own life, does faith grow. "Faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the Word of God." Faith-filled Christians are Bible-reading Christians.

The Roll-Call of Faith

Our author of the Letter to the Hebrews calls the roll of Old Testament heroes of faith. As we see them pass before our eyes there grows in our hearts the conviction that we, too, should follow in their train. A simple trust in the reality of God's word wells up in our hearts. Faith, simple, child-like faith, which, born of faith in God, reaches out to faith in man and becomes the master motive of life. Character wins strength and symmetry and sympathy. "According to your faith be unto you." As our Lesson says, "Without faith it is impossible to be well-pleasing unto Him; for he that cometh to God must believe that He is, and that He is a rewarder of them that seek after Him."

Faith-Filled Faces

Follow through with a study of faith-filled men and women in the centuries that have followed the writing of the Bible. There is Luther, who altered the course of civilization with his thunderous, "The just shall live by faith." Do not miss contemporary examples of faith. I saw a Lutheran deaconess in a railway station leading a group of alien children to a vacation in the country, and her madonna face was a beautiful testimony to the transforming power of faith. We think of our own mothers and the beauty wrought into their lives by simple faith.

COLLEGE PRESIDENT PRINCIPAL SPEAKER AT BAPTIST MEETING

Ray L. Waller, president of Navarro Junior College, was the principal speaker at the first full meeting of the Brotherhood of the First Baptist church Tuesday evening. Officers of the Brotherhood were re-elected. Musical numbers and readings were provided by four talented entertainers from the Sue Cook school.

M. A. Tekell, president, presided. Russell Purifoy was program chairman. Visitors were J. S. Hicks, W. P. McCammon and Robert Cason.

Officers re-elected were Tekell, president; L. B. Dawson, vice president; Purifoy, program chairman, and Brown Thompson, secretary-treasurer.

United Jewish Appeal.

T. L. Tyson, chairman of the Christian Committee for the United Jewish Appeal, announced the campaign under way, its purpose and for what the money raised would be expended. It will relieve starving persons in Europe and prolong life of little hungry children.

Entertainment features included "At the Ball Game," reading by Miss Barbara Hart; "When Mother Sings to Me," Evelyn Lovelace, with D'Wayne Fowler, pianist; "Mother Would Learn to Drive," reading, Patti John Bunch.

"Our Philosophy of Life," was the title of the address delivered by the college president. He referred to the unity of mankind which we hide our ignorance, and his entire discourse reflected the inconsistencies of our complex life, of the hope of a brighter and better future, and the good of living wisely and well.

Must Pay Price.

President Waller also referred to the difficulty we have in living up to what we tell others to do, and he added that people can get what they want if they are willing to pay the price—even automobiles.

"Life is what we make it and the best is yet to come," Waller stated, and then he discussed living.

A moral, sensible, and well-bred man will not affront me, and no other can.

—Chinese Proverb.

Faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.

—Hebrews 11:1.

And this is the task before me: A task we may never shrink; In the gay time and the sorrowful time, We must work, and do our work.

ing by comparison with others, the easy way of drifting with the crowd, etc., although we boast of "our rugged individualism."

In concluding his remarks, the college head urged the giving of time, thought, etc., to those coming behind us—the present youth.

Greatest Problem.

"Our greatest problem is to make the younger generation better than ours," Waller added, and then advised his hearers that lessons learned by youngsters from the examples of the elders were retained much more and were more indelibly stamped on their characters than any printed pages of textbooks.

Dr. Jared I. Cartledge, pastor of the church and appointed chairman of the food conservation committee of Corsicana, appealed for the people to follow the request and suggestions of the president in saving food.

"If you had seen children starving to death, as I did this summer, you wouldn't mind tightening your belt so the people there can live," the minister added.

Church Program.

Dr. Cartledge also spoke of the challenging program of the First Baptist church during the new year—its greatest budget and program in history. He predicted that the church would over-subscribe and pay the record-breaking budget that exceeds $1,100 per week, as it has done in the past years. The women of the church served the banquet.

New Woodbine Test Southeast Of City

Quest for oil production in this section continues despite recent tests being abandoned as dry holes. A fourth attempt to find Woodbine pay in the area of Navarro—ten miles southeast of Corsicana, has been scheduled. L. O. Kelsey of Kilgore has announced a location on the E. D. Smith farm, M. Autry survey. Two failures have been drilled northeast of the location and a third southeast. The test is slated for 8,500 feet.

Joe Thompson and H. L. Thomas, Waco promoters, with W. E. and M. C. Swarthout of Waco and Corsicana as drillers, are drilling a second oil test in the Hubbard, Hill County area. The test, known as the Carr No. 1, is one mile northwest of Hubbard on the Hillboro-Hubbard old highway. The previous unsuccessful test drilled last year was on the Muncy Hawkins tract about a mile west of the new test. The test is to be drilled to 3,000 feet in production is not encountered at a higher level.

Pharmacist Employed

W. W. Thrall assumed his duties as pharmacist at the Johnson Pharmacy Monday.

Graduate of the School of Pharmacy of Oklahoma University, Thrall comes to Corsicana from Dallas. His wife plans to join him here, later.

HEALTH HAZARDS FOR CHILDREN IN WINTER GREAT, DOCTOR SAYS

AUSTIN, Oct. 16.—(Spl.)—Seasonal health hazards for young children are to be guarded against in the wintertime just as carefully as they are in the summertime in the opinion of Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer.

"Every mother is familiar with so-called summer complaints which affect small children but certain winter diseases can be just as harmful and are just as likely to make their appearance unless proper precautions are used during the approaching season," Dr. Cox said.

In the group of winter diseases Dr. Cox included influenza, tonsillitis, pneumonia, bronchitis, asthma, and even diphtheria when a child has not had diphtheria immunization. Any such disease affecting a child's respiratory or breathing system is apt to be very serious and all too often fatal. Pneumonia often develops from a neglected cold or may follow a severe case of measles or whooping cough. Bronchitis conditions may also prove to be an after effect of such diseases and these respiratory ailments are prevalent in the summertime, and known as summer complaints.

"These winter diseases are especially dangerous to babies and very young children," Dr. Cox stated. "Nearly all of them are spread from the secretions of the nose and mouth. Children not in vigorous health are naturally more susceptible to these complaints and the first line of defense against them is to build up the child's general health, as a power of resistance against disease," Dr. Cox advised. "The second step is to keep them under medical supervision and the third is to make sure that they avoid contact with those who have coughs, colds, or fevers."

PLEASE PASS THE CAKE

Delicate Yellow Cake... With easy caramel icing.

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor.

It's such fun to bake sweet tidings again now that the ingredients are available, isn't it? Because I think the answer is yes. I'd like to give you a couple of new and interesting cakes to try. Here they are:

Delicate Yellow Cake.

1-2 cup butter or vitaminized margarine, 1-2 tablespoons boiling water, 2-3 cups sifted flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-2 cups sugar, 1-3 cup milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla extract, 2 eggs, pecan halves. Place vitaminized margarine in a mixing bowl. Add boiling water and mix well. Sift flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Add to margarine with milk and vanilla. Beat two minutes by hand or moderate speed on electric mixer. Add eggs and beat two more minutes. Brush baking pan with butter or margarine and line with waxed paper, also brushed with butter or margarine. Pour cake batter into pan and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 35-40 minutes. Remove cake to cooling rack. When cool, frost with Easy Caramel Icing and decorate with pecan halves.

Easy Caramel Icing.
5 tablespoons butter or vitaminized margarine, 1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed, 1-4 cup milk, 1-2 cups confectioners sugar, 1-4 teaspoon salt.

Melt butter or margarine in saucepan. Add brown sugar and bring to boil, stirring constantly. Add milk and boil slowly three minutes. Cool thoroughly without stirring. Add confectioners sugar and beat until thick and creamy.

Applesauce Cake.

1-2 cup shortening, 1 cup sugar, 2 egg yolks, 2 cups flour, 1 cup thick applesauce, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon powdered cloves, 1 teaspoon powdered cinnamon, 1 teaspoon soda, 1-2 cup chopped raisins, 1-3 cup black walnuts.

Cream shortening and sugar. Add beaten egg yolks, sift dry ingredients. Add alternately with applesauce to first mixture. Dredge raisins and nuts with flour and add. Bake in a greased loaf cake pan in 350 degree oven for one hour. Frost with Coffee Boiled Icing.

Coffee Boiled Icing.

2 eggs whites, 1 cup sugar, 1-4 cup boiling water, 1-4 cup strong coffee.

Boil sugar and water together until it spins a thread when dropped from the side of a spoon. Beat egg whites very stiff and add the sugar-water syrup to them a tablespoonful at a time, beating thoroughly with each addition. Do this as quickly as possible so that the syrup will not granulate. Beat in coffee at the end.

CHALLENGE OF TEXAS MINIMUM TEACHERS' PAY LAW IS PLANNED

TEXARKANA, Tex., Oct. 16.—(AP)—A challenge of the constitutionality of the Texas minimum salary law was shaping up today with H. W. Stilwell, Texarkana, Texas, school superintendent, a leader in the plan.

He said yesterday that he and other Texas school men were preparing to challenge the law, which has been interpreted as requiring school districts to pay negro teachers the same as white teachers.

One of the state's best constitutional lawyers has agreed to study the matter. Stilwell said. The Supreme Court may be asked for a declaratory judgment on the law's constitutionality.

He said he was not fighting the law because of any prejudice against negroes but from his stand that the salary provisions could not be applied to the Texarkana district without serious consequences.

He said that if they lost the fight, there would be no alternative to cutting the salaries of some white teachers in order that negro teachers might receive raises. Stilwell said it also was not quite clear to him whether the state superintendent of instruction or the state board of education had the final power to approve or disapprove salary schedules of districts. State Superintendent L. A. Woods has disapproved Texarkana schedules on the grounds that they discriminate against negro teachers. Superintendent Stilwell said he is not so sure that the board of education cannot overrule Woods.

Legion Backs Food plan. AUSTIN, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Texas American Legion and Auxiliary Legionnaires lend every encouragement today had the recommendation of State Legion Com-to this endeavor," Berry said.

mander George S. Berry of Lubbock to "co-operate to the best of their ability" with the nationwide food conservation program.

"The president's proclamation should be and is our program and it is most assuredly fitting that Legionnaires lend every encouragement and practical assistance to this endeavor," Berry said.

TRAVELING OVER AMERICA MAY BE SIMPLER THAN TRIP TO MOON AND MORE FUN, BUT HAS HAZARDS

By HAL BOYLE.
GRAND FORKS, N. D., Oct. 16. —(AP)—Traveling to the moon may ultimately be simpler in this post-atomic age than going about America but it probably won't be as much fun.

Yet it is a land not without its troubles for the natives—natives who still like and seek the creature comforts.

To them the food shortages and fuel uncertainties of Europe belong to another world—except there are stretches of hundreds of miles where the traveler has to watch his gas reserves carefully.

But what are the hazards?

Well, they might not discourage a pioneer mother, but they certainly cause some black moments for modern wives. One criticism of life on the road is that you can't judge the comfort facilities of a

The football game between Corsicana High School and Hubbard was called off because so many of the Hubbard players were sick with dengue fever that not enough remained to make up a team. A northern was expected to curb the dengue epidemic in a few days. County clerks in most of Texas counties were delaying the printing of ballots for the Nov. 7 election until the controversy over the candidacy of Earle B. Mayfield and George E. B. Peddy, Democratic and republican nominees for U. S. Senator, is settled.

The army dirigible C-2 fell and burned at Brooks Field, San Antonio, as it was preparing to fly back to Washington, D. C. Five men were injured in the accident.  Conventions must not be operated by Jim Farley, Ed Flynn and the Pendergast machine."

"There is one independent voice in America today calling for peace and security and that voice is Henry Wallace," Quill declared, to loud applause by the delegates.

Jack Kroll, director of the CIO Political Action Committee, addressed the convention just after Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Jr. called for a union of labor, housewives, farmers and war veterans to win the next election away from what he termed a "servile congress intent on serving special interests."

Political Action Planned.
 Their addresses came as the convention settled down to work on the problem of implementing its attitude on labor matters with political action.

Kroll frankly told the delegates that the CIO hasn't yet duplicated—in the field of politics—its success at economic organization.

Declaring this "is because we haven't sufficiently applied ourselves," Kroll called for 1,000,000 "block workers"—people who would organize their neighbors in a single block. He said the CIO-PAC already had 100,000 such workers.

FDR, Jr. Assails Taft.
 Roosevelt told the convention that "men like Senator Taft x x x are seeking to serve the food speculators, the commodity speculators and are seeking to bring about inflation. x x x"

Roosevelt called "a real estate lobby the most ruthless lobby in Washington" and charged it with trying to prevent passage of the Taft-Elliender-Wagner bill to alleviate the veterans' housing shortage.

Just before his address, CIO President Philip Murray unveiled a memorial plaque to the Late President Roosevelt which is to be set in the CIO Memorial children's wing of the Georgetown University Hospital in Washington.

Marshall Plan Supported.
 The former president's son appeared before the convention the day after a demonstration of overwhelming support on the part of the CIO for Secretary of State Marshall and the American foreign policy.

This is the No. 1 fact of the CIO convention so far.

It was demonstrated yesterday in one of the most violent debates heard at a CIO convention in the last six years.

The convention cheered constantly for right-wing speakers who shouted their support of American policy and fired criticism at Russian and Communist methods.

 It was an obvious spanking for

The loudest and longest roar of applause came when George Baldanzoli of the Textile Workers said that in Russia President Truman has been compared to a Hitler and then added: "He couldn't be a Hitler, because if he were a Hitler, Russia would work out a pact with him."

Secretary Marshall himself addressed the convention earlier in the day. The delegates gave him an ovation. Murray called him "one of the world's greatest champions of peace."

Marshall Stresses Aid.
 Marshall spoke of the "urgent necessity" of "positive interim measures" to supply food and coal to Europe "to prevent a fatal deterioration, political, economic and psychological."

He said: "We are faced with the danger of the actual disappearance of the characteristics of Western civilization on which our government and our manner of living depend."

At the end of the day, the convention adopted a CIO resolution on foreign policy, supporting all "sound programs" of economic aid to other countries and generally calling for peace, unity, understanding, and an end to war talk.

 dication that further identification will be accomplished.

Final Damage Estimated
 City officials list the following damage estimates and insurance collections as resulting from the disaster:

Industrial plants: $42,000,000 and $22,000,000.
 Business establishments: $6 00,000 and $4,750,000.
 Residences: $2,250,000 and $1,600,000.
 Automobiles: $500,000 in damages.
 Public schools: $700,000 and $140,000.
 Churches: $150,000 and $5,000.
 People throughout the United States contributed nearly $3,000,000.

The committee has spent approximately $300,000 in aiding residents to date and a similar amount has been set-marked for future aid to approximately 200 dependents of persons killed or permanently injured.

The American Red Cross has spent over $1,000,000 in relief.

Social Functions Continue
 Stead denied a report that there have been few social functions at Texas City since April 16.

"Quite to the contrary, for we have encouraged our people to mix and mingle," he said. "Entertainment helps us to forget and that is what we need—something to occupy our minds and keep us from thinking of that dreadful day."

"Why actually, the disaster has knitted us more closely together," he said. "Long time residents who never knew each other are close friends now."

"We're more like a big family now because the grief and sorrow were common among us."

'WICKED': King's Cross Profits From Its World Fame

TRYSTING PLACE of Pacific servicemen was King's Cross.

By RALPH MORTON
AP Newsfeatures.
 SYDNEY—King's Cross, as famous to the Pacific servicemen as was the Latin Quarter of Paris to American troops in two world wars, is a little quieter these days in peacetime dress. But it's still the expensive naughty spot in Sydney.

To 2,000,000 G.I.'s "the Cross" meant women, lights, cafes, night spots, gambling dens where money changed hands quickly in Australia's baccarat and two-up schools.

Today it is still the center of blackmarket activities, where American cigarettes, when available, sell at 60 cents a pack.

For a place that doesn't exist, King's Cross has acquired quite a reputation. Officially there is no such place, yet it is known to travelers throughout the world. Although the Cross has two postoffice branches, neither is named for it—they are William Street and Macleay Street.

Center of the Cross' fashionable activities is the Roosevelt Club, once an American officers' club. Bobby-soxers still gather for fun and drinks at the California.

Women in furs and orchid's slip into expensive restaurants for dinner, and high price eating places have increased since the war. You will find dining just as expensive as off Broadway.

Merchants of the Cross don't quarrel with its reputation for naughtiness—it's good for business. Foreigners love the Cross, particularly its open shops and lights on the Sabbath when almost all the rest of Australia has a violent attack of Sunday blues.

Once a year the peace-time Cross regains its former mad war time position. On a hot summer night, the night of Dec. 31, it is carnival time when tens of thousands of scantily and gaily clad girls and boys jam the streets and make whoopee.

But actually old-time residents say their doors are locked at nine each night and they live in peace and quiet, that the Cross, with its parks, schools and churches, is an ideal place in which to bring up children.

 two days, Gwinn said. The committee will then visit principal cities across the country to study building conditions.

Schedule Not Public
 "We are not announcing where we will go or when," Gwinn said, "because we sometimes find that we cannot get the information we want if our schedule is known in advance. We will go only to cities where we are wanted, and where city officials are ready to help us out."

The investigation will cover the operations of 10 major unions, Gwinn said. These are carpenters, electricians, painters, bricklayers and masons, plasterers and lathers, plumbers, glaziers, hod carriers and laborers, engineers, and steel and iron workers.

"AIRMADA"

 Mayor Braselton explained to the visitors that the reason Corsicana did not have a girl to enter in the contest this year was that letters advising him of the celebration did not reach his desk until after he returned from a trip to New York.

Attending the luncheon were Mayor Braselton, Commissioners Fred D. Prince, Edgar Rittersbacher and J. E. Davant Jr., Ray Waller, president of Navarro Junior College; Herman Brown, manager, Chamber of Commerce; John B. Corley, president, Chamber of Commerce; Fred H. Harvey Jr., B. Lynn Sanders.

The luncheon was served in the college dining room.

ROAD CONSTRUCTION IN COUNTY IS BEING RUSHED; SHORTAGE OF MATERIALS CAUSES SOME DELAY

Present favorable weather conditions are being taken advantage of throughout the county by road contractors and operations are being rushed.

This condition, however, has a kick-back and delay. Railroads are hard-pressed to provide material cars and local and statewide jobs are being delayed, local contracting and engineering officials have indicated.

Highway 31. The L. H. Lacey & Company, contractor for the 22-foot pavement on Highway 31 between Corsicana and Silver City, will tie in the slab at the Corbet division this week, but additional work remains to be completed, including a half section for several blocks beginning at West Seventh avenue and South Thirty-First street; approaches at Corbet and near Purdon, and curbs and gutters on the concrete bridges on the approximately 11 miles contract.

Material Shortage. The Austin Road Company, contractor for the approximately seven miles from the western end of the Lacey contract and the eastern extremity of the old pavement in North Dawson, is being plagued with a material shortage and has been forced to shut down several times before the end of the day during the past couple of weeks. This concern still lacks approximately 2 1/2 miles of pavement—about two weeks' work if uninterrupted operations can be carried out. The new road, however, will not be completed in time to be used by the caravans of cars that plan to leave the Corsicana-at-Waco District 10-AA football game, Oct. 31, since a week or more is required for slabs to cure after they have been poured and then additional time is necessary to clean-up the right-of-way, putting up the shoulders to the pavement, etc.

52 Feet Wide. Work of the curb and gutters on East Seventh avenue, Highway 31, is progressing satisfactorily. This road will be 52 feet wide when completed. A contract has already been let by the highway department for the paving of that section from the old slab and the new curbs and gutters and this operation should get under way soon.

The City of Corsicana started this week the preliminary work toward widening of Fifteenth street on Highway 22 from Seventh to Second avenues. The street will be widened from its present width of 32 to 34 feet to 52 feet. Contract has been let for widening pavement in the Blooming Grove business district.

The topping of the farm-to-market road from Highway 22 west of Frost to the Navarro-Ellis county line to connect with all-weather roads in Ellis county is due to be finished this week.

Lateral Road. The lateral road from Silver City to Blooming Grove is to be completed within a few more working days.

Dirt and drainage structures are being rushed on the Rural Shade and Bazette farm-to-market roads and an effort will be made to complete these roads before the rains and cold weather season arrives.

Topping of the Powell-to-Elm Flat and Currie-to-Rushing laterals will require only a few days, and it is understood the contractors plan to do this work immediately.

Work is about completed on the farm-to-market road extending from Wortham to a point north of Streetman on Highway 75, following in a general direction the Freestone-Navarro county line.

Actual construction work has been rushed as fast as possible since the engineering staff can get the inside work, surveys, etc., during the season when actual construction is held up because of weather.

Much Repair Work. The Texas highway department and the individual commissioners of the county have done all of the repair work possible during the summer and early fall period, and it is understood the contractors get the roads into as good condition as possible. Many ditches have been pulled during the summer and numerous bridges have been repaired preparatory to the approaching winter season.

Several designated farm-to-market roads come up for construction next year in the three-year plan for Navarro county. Included are Frost to Emmett, Mildred to Tuckertown, near Dawson to near Coolidge, Pursley, and probably others.

Seek New Highway. A Navarro county delegation, probably joined by citizens of Henderson and Kaufman counties, is slated to appear before the Texas highway commission Oct. 24, seeking the designation and construction of a state highway from Corsicana to intersect with existing state highways near Kemp, Kaufman county. The proposed road is sought to go in the vicinity of Roane, Montfort and Chisfield in the northeastern sections of the county, cross a narrow neck of Henderson county and into Kaufman county. The road committee of the Chamber of Commerce here has been joined by the Navarro county commissioners court and citizens in seeking this thoroughfare that will not only give a short cut into Northeast Texas, but also will serve a quarter of Navarro county not now adequately served with all-weather roads.

NO MORE STAIRS

The one-story house is more and more popular. More than 700 farm women in Minnesota, Wisconsin, the Dakotas, Nebraska, Iowa, Indiana and Illinois were polled by five farm publications with the purpose of learning what kind of homes farmers' wives preferred. A composite of these ideas has been prepared showing rooms on one level. The driveway leads to a front entrance—farm women are tired of having all callers come to the kitchen door.

A utility room at one end includes the laundry and faces the barn. It permits the farmer to enter here after his chores are finished, wash up, leave his overalls before he joins the family. Adjoining this is a small room for the farm office. The kitchen is large, with modern equipment, plenty of working and eating space. It is arranged in a U shape to avoid having traffic bisect it. The living room uses one end as a dining room. Bedrooms are at the other end, with plenty of closets and cupboards. Farm women want a basement that is cool enough for storing vegetables and their canned goods, with a central heating plant for the hard winters of this middle-western region.

Farmers are buying these plans in large numbers. It looks as if they may be the first in the nation to start new home building in earnest. They have the land, the cash, and the requisite skills to do much of the building themselves.

The farm landscape of the middle states is likely soon to change from the high and narrow house of old to the ranch-type stairless dwelling. The result will be much easier housekeeping for farm wives.

READING

Teachers in the high schools of 31 states have answered a questionnaire revealing that 96 per cent of the pupils in their English classes do not know how to read. They lack the ability to digest quickly, comprehend and retain what they find on the printed page. Except for the tabloids, comics and "pulp," they do not read. Only a small percentage read for enjoyment. The teacher concludes that high school pupils are doing less reading than was done by similar groups ten years ago.

Since educators consider reading a basic skill or tool necessary to all learning, this is serious handicap. Improving reading ability, as well as adding to the appeal of reading, therefore becomes a major aim of the high school.

WHEN HANNA RULED

Senator J. Howard McGrath of Rhode Island, new chairman of the Democratic national committee, will be satisfied if he does anywhere near as well as the last senator who headed a national committee. This was Mark Hanna of Ohio, whose management of McKinley's second election came before he had been a senator for three years. Hanna was possibly the most efficient organizer a party has ever had.

One reason for Hanna's success was the money at his disposal. Corporations were then allowed to contribute to campaign funds. Hanna

THOSE GAY NINETY STYLES
 My mother, fond of pretty dress,
 Had ankles trim, but wouldn't show 'em.
 She wore long skirts with never less Than three silk petticoats
 below 'em.
 And when in church she walked
 the aisle,
 The people heard her garments
 rustle.
 And just because it was the style,
 She wore a most alluring bustle.
 She fancied leg-of-mutton sleeves
 And heavy stuff her charms to smother;
 But, who in modesty believes,
 As I, had truly loved my mother.

drew on all above a certain size, even insurance companies and banks. His argument was unanswerable: "Give the party money, and we will pass laws that will more than return your investment." No one since then has come quite so near turning American government into a dividend-paying enterprise for large campaign contributors.

Times and circumstances have changed. McGrath is not likely to be a second Hanna.

MOVIES OF LAWYERS

Al Jolson's life was put in the movies and succeeded. Woodrow Wilson's life was put in the movies and succeeded. So with the life-story of Louis Pasteur.

These facts lend support to the view that the careers of prominent attorneys who have contributed to the development of the law, would make good film material. Arthur J. Freud of St. Louis made this suggestion to the American Bar Association's convention, in a report as chairman of a committee to look into radio and the movies. He suggested two chief justices, John Marshall and William Howard Taft as possibilities, also Judah P. Benjamin.

Benjamin deserves to be remembered better. A contemporary of the British Benjamin Disraeli, he resembled him in many respects and was often compared with him. He was a senator from Louisiana, and holder of three cabinet posts under the Confederacy, winding up as secretary of state. At the end of the war he escaped, disguised, in an open boat to the Bahamas. Thence he made his way to England, where he became a British subject and a leader of the British bar. Hollywood should find him interesting.

SCHOOL SHOWDOWN

No teachers are better than bad ones. In these words Ralph McDonald, executive secretary of the National Commission on Teacher Education, urged the abolition of the emergency certificates under which many unqualified teachers have been operating. The war might justify hiring poor teachers, for a time, but that excuse cannot be offered now. If there are not enough teachers to go around, that should be made known.

If this plan is carried out, communities which have been paying low salaries and states which have not interfered to help will both have to do something. A classroom without a teacher is a fact which cannot be explained away.

THERE WERE OTHERS

Gen. George S. Patton won the war. This seems to be the conclusion of Col. Robert S. Allen, former columnist, whose new book, "Lucky Forward," tells about the achievements of Patton's Third Army. Allen rather gives the impression that Patton won the war single-handed, and that the other American armies and Montgomery's British only served to divert supplies and get in the way.

Patton himself would have made no such claim. His record is secure as the most brilliant American soldier since Grant, Sherman and Lee, and in many ways inferior to none of these. Allen's admiration has led him to make excessive claims.

Winter had fewer terrors when there were no cars to nurse through cold and slippery weather, says a friend. Brother did you ever nurse a wood stove through 14 below zero?

STRUGGLE UNDER THE HARVEST MOON

CHANGE IN ATHLETIC FACILITIES AT HIGH SCHOOL DISCUSSED

The Corsicana Dad's Club, at its regular monthly meeting Monday night at the high school, put its stamp of approval on a tentative plan to give Corsicana high school an adequate baseball park for its use in inter-scholastic League baseball and bolster the high school's track and field program.

The plan, as outlined by members of the club Monday night, is to put a 400 yard track around Tiger Field to accommodate track activities, and eliminate the football practice field there. Football practice sessions would be moved to the high school grounds, which would be cleared of the present football facilities there and a watering system installed in order to get grass to growing on that plot again.

The baseball facilities would be moved to the large lot immediately west of William B. Travis school, to accommodate the high school baseball program, the American Legion football program, and the summer softball program by the Corsicana Softball Association. The association has volunteered the use of its lighting system and bleachers if an agreement can be worked out with the school board for the use of the field. The tentative plan also included an adequate fence around the baseball grounds.

Financial details of the ambitious program were not discussed at the Monday night meeting. The Dad's Club contenting itself with merely approving the move.

Truck and Field Program

If carried out, the plan would give the high school a baseball field for a sport that is to become a major high school activity next spring, since the abolition of spring football training. It would also give the high school facilities to carry on track and field program for the first time in many years.

Other features of the Monday night meeting included the financial report, the report on the season football ticket sales, and a report on the football camp at Trinidad.

SUMMER VACATION SPENT IN TRAVEL, STUDY BY TEACHERS

Corsicana teachers really took advantage of the 12-week vacation this year.

Some traveled, some studied, some did both. They opened their classrooms this fall after spending more than $5,800 for more education, higher degrees, and thrill-packed tours of all parts of the nation.

A report of teacher activities during the three-month vacation was made to School Superintendent W. H. Woodward.

The report disclosed that teachers spent a grand total of 210 weeks in study, all but one choosing Texas colleges. Degrees were received by Mrs. Beth E. Stokes, Master of Arts at Sam Houston State Teachers College; H. C. Allen, Master of Arts at Southern Methodist University; and Ira Belle Harper, Bachelor of Science, Texas Christian University. Total expenses for all the teachers' courses was $1,071.

The studious group, however, was outnumbered by those traveling. Fourteen teachers enrolled in educational institutions, while 37 abandoned their studies to visit more than a score of states, Mexico and Washington, D. C. at an expense of $4739.34.

GEN. EAKER FAVORS STRENGTH TO AVERT FUTURE ATOM WAR

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Ira Eaker, who says Russia might feel strong enough to attack the United States in 10 years, has this recipe for peace: Keep her atomic bomb carrier, the air force, intact, and up to strength. Produce enough atomic bombs to destroy the 50 or 60 vital targets of a country which would attack us. Invest enough funds in scientific research to obtain the best weapons 10 years hence, probably including guided missiles carrying atomic warheads with range of 3,000 to 10,000 miles. Teach a solid brand of patriotism.

Gen. Eaker, retiring deputy chief of the army air forces, told the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce yesterday that Russia is the only potential enemy in the world today powerful enough to "enuse us trouble."

SCOUT LEADERS MEET TUESDAY NIGHT, PLAN ROUND-UP PROGRAM

Boy Scout leaders from most Troops and Packs in the Navarro district of the Circle Ten Council met Tuesday night at the YMCA and launched the local phase of the national Fall Round-Up program.

N. Suttle Roberts, chairman of the district, opened the meeting and introduced Joe York, who acted as master of ceremonies for the session. The program leaders were dressed in cowboy regalia, and western songs were sung by the group, with Foy Garrett leading.

Gaston Gooch, district commissioner, described the Round-Up in detail. He explained the "Spur" award, which Scouts may win by meeting the following requirements before December 20:

1. Invite and train one new scout.
2. Advance one rank.
3. Make reservation for a summer camp.
4. Have perfect attendance at unit meetings.
5. Take "Boys Life" magazine.

Troops and Packs may win "Unit Spur Awards" by meeting the following requirements before December 20:

1. Plan twelve-month program for the unit.
2. Have 50 per cent of the troop composed of Scouts who have reached second class.
3. Have one trained leader.
4. Troops have camp reservation—Packs plan a major activity.

Claude White, chairman of the district board of review, introduced the members of his committee, J. E. Butler, Guy Henry and Bill Balcom. White said that boards of review for all Scouts advancing are held on the second Tuesday of each month at the YMCA, and that leaders should see that boys get proper credit for their work.

Jack Everhart, community commissioner, announced that a training course for scout leaders would be held starting on October 21 at the YMCA.

A technicolor movie called the "Scouting Trail to Citizenship" was shown to the group, and a general discussion of problems in Troop and Pack leadership followed.

The meeting was adjourned with the Scout benedictions.

Mystery of the Missing Farms

Yep, the number of farms in America is shrinking (by a quarter-million in the last five years). What's happened to the missing farms? The land has been taken in by other farms, increasing the average size by twenty acres!

Does this growth mean farming's no longer a family enterprise? Just the opposite! More families own farms today than ever—only with labor-saving equipment they can handle more land, more work.

That's as it should be. The family farm is a fortress of democracy—

Annual Meeting Of Hamilton-Beeman Cemetery Association

The following announcement concerning the Friday meeting of the Hamilton-Beeman Cemetery Association at the cemetery a few miles southeast of Corsicana, and one of the oldest cemeteries in the county, has been authorized by Mrs. Roy Love, Mrs. W. T. McKee and J. A. Young, long prominent in the association's activities.

The purpose of the Hamilton-Beeman Cemetery Association is to maintain, enlarge and beautify the grounds. For many years it has been the custom to hold a meeting at the cemetery grounds once each year, the members bringing well-filled baskets of lunch. This assembly is an annual business meeting, closing the association's fiscal year and a memorial to our loved ones who have passed on. It is a sacred duty, next in importance to our religious duties.

We do earnestly ask each of you who are interested in the cemetery and the work, to attend this meeting and hear Dr. Will Miller, who will make the inspirational talk on this occasion.

Deafness Tests
An audiometer furnished by the Corsicana Rotary Club is being used at the Corsicana State Home to test the percentage of deafness among students in the high school and grammar schools there this week. Superintendent Moyne Kelly has reported.

The tests are being given by W. C. Murdock, assistant superintendent, under the direction of Dr. C. L. Mountjoy.

HARD-RIDIN' MAMA...Mrs. G. L. Bogard and Corky

AP Newsfeatures.

PUEBLO, Colo.—Mrs. G. L. Bogard, 50-year old mother of six, is planning next Wild West adventures next year, after climbing her summer work as a mountain trail guide, by riding horseback alone 150 miles on a circuitous route from Bailey, Colo., to Pueblo.

The six-day journey capped Mrs. Bogard's realization of a life long dream—guiding Eastern dudes on pack trips in the mountains near Bailey.

Her two unmarried children Gus and Nina, maintained the Pueblo home for their father, a railroad man, while mother became a trail rider in the best western tradition.

After the season closed, Mrs. Bogard tossed a bed roll on "Corky," her white horse, and set out for home on back trails mapped for her by forest rangers.

She passed through virgin expanses of the Rocky Mountain backbone of America. Some areas were so isolated that deer, antelope, bear, wolves, coyotes and wild fowl were undisturbed by her presence.

Mrs. Bogard said she became lost one day but found her route again after spending the night in a remote rocky canyon. Her horseback ride touched Lake George, Cripple Creek and Canon City.

Divide ranching is on Mrs. Bogard's schedule for next summer. Gus and Nina will keep house in Pueblo again, she said. Son John is in the navy; a daughter, Julia, is attending college in Reno, Nev.; a son by a former marriage, Le Roy Hawkins, lives in Dallas, Tex., and another daughter, Mrs. W. E. Harvey, resides in Oakland, Calif.

CORSICANA TIGERS INVADE HILLSBORO TO OPPOSE EAGLES

By TALMADGE CANANT
Sun Sports Staff

This week's play in District 10-A, featured by the Corsicana-Hillsboro truce in Hillsboro and the Waco-Waxahachie tilt. In Waco, will see the last two teams to enter district competition get their feet wet against worthy conference foes.

Corsicana goes up against Hillsboro, its first opponent in the district race, with a string of four straight wins over Crozier Tech, Greenville, Fort Worth Tech and Palestine. Hillsboro is fresh from a lading at the hands of the revived Temple Wildcats last week.

Waxahachie, with its escutcheon unblemished by a defeat this season, will be trying for its third straight conference win when it plays the apprehensive Waco Tigers. Waco has lost but one, and that to the strong Austin Maroons in the first tilt of the season.

Temple, having left its brand on Hillsboro, plays host to Ennis, which took Sulphur Springs 12-0 last week. Though Temple can end up no higher than .000 in the district standing, regardless of how many they win, the teams they beat will get credit for a defeat.

Cleburne, after scoring the pants off Waxahachie for three quarters last week, will play host to McKinney in the only non-district game in the loop this week.

The outcome of the Waxahachie-Waco game will prove one team or the other an unquestioned power in the district. Waco is no weak slacker, and Waxahachie is no record slacker and speaks for itself. The game is easily the most important tilt of the week in this district.

Corsicana Test
This week's game between Corsicana and Hillsboro should give a true indication of just what Corsicana has. The Tigers show promise of being good, but they have not played a team that is tough enough to give them close contest. Hillsboro, smarting after the plastering by Temple, should do just that.

Temple is the favorite against Ennis, and it looks like they will add another defeat to the record of the Lions.

James Virgil Greer, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Greer of Kerens, Route 1, enlisted October 10, 1947, for a three years term of service in the regular army, the recruiting service has announced.

NAME PAUL MILLER BOARD MEMBER OF CORSICANA YMCA

The board of directors of the Corsicana YMCA, meeting in regular session at the Y Monday, elected Paul Miller a member of the board, replacing Ralph Brown, who recently resigned. Bill Bacon, general secretary, has announced. Miller is a former county judge of Navarro county, having resigned that post to enlist in the army during World War II. He was with the famed 36th Division during the war, one of its European campaign.

John P. Adams presided over the meeting in the absence of President Fred Harvey. Joe Butcher was chairman of the session. A motion picture was shown for the post of board member.

Details of renovating certain parts of the local YMCA plant were discussed at the session. A discussion of the "Youth in Government" program being sponsored by the Southwest Area YMCA for Hi-Y boys and Tri-Hi-Y girls only, was held. The program resembles that of the American Legion Boys' State movement, but differs in several respects.

A telegram from Gov. Beauford Jester, regular member of the board, expressing his regrets for being unable to attend the session, was read to the assembled board members.

UNIQUE NAVARRO COUNTY ROAD DISTRICT, WINKLER COMMUNITY, HAS SHORT SLAB, HEAVY TAXES

By PAUL MOORE
Daily Sun Staff

One of the most unusual road districts and road systems in Texas is found in Navarro county.

More particularly it is in the Winkler community. Richland creek crossing, officially known as Navarro County Road District No. 15.

Here is found a concrete slab 14 miles in length, including a steel span bridge crossing the creek channel and the entire length of the road is undated during periods of high floodwaters of this major stream.

The nine-foot slab is provided with passing plus—a frequent interval the slab is widened with aprons on either side—vehicles approaching pull on to the sidings somewhat similar to railroads or interurbans pulling into switches on the railroads.

Bonds Voted.
The district, representing about one-third million dollars taxable valuation, voted $40,000 bonds, maturing in 30 years, in 1919. Only $6,000 outstanding bonds remain, according to E. Y. Cunningham, county auditor. The bonds mature optionally $2,000 per year plus accrued interest. The present tax rate is $1.50 per $100 valuation. Cunningham said the option for the 1946 maturities were not called on and $2,000 is due in 1946 and the remaining $4,200 will be serviced in 1949.

Practically all of the slab is on the east or south side of the creek in Precinct 3. Only a small segment is in Precinct 1.

Repairs Needed.
While the bonds originally voted are practically retired, considerable work and repairs are needed on the road.

The ditches and culverts have become clogged and filled, and water stands on some parts of the slab for weeks on end following overflows since the land on either side is higher than the slab caused by the settling of soil when the waters are held back.

The slab is only a short distance upstream from where Richland and Chambers creeks join in a love improvement district.

Fred M. Copeland, commissioner of Precinct 3, has stated he planned to do some repair work on the slab this summer.

Done timber alongside the road forms a canopy over the road most of the way, with the tops and limbs of the trees meeting overhead. Approaches to the bridge need some replacement, too.

Impassable During Overflows.
During high water periods, the slab is unusable and the Winkler citizens are required to go to Streetman and thence up Highway 75 to Corsicana and other trading points. Most of the eight miles to Streetman is on sandy soil and could be made into a farm-to-market road without too much work or cost, citizens have pointed out.

When the bonds were issued in 1919 for the concrete slab, Highway 75 was unheard of, and there were no state highways or all-weather construction in Navarro county.

The citizens of that area are paying a heavy tax over a 30-year period for a crossing that can be used only when floodwaters are not encountered.

J. M. Tulles, deputy county clerk, former Navarro county auditor, said at one time a tax rate of $2 per $100 valuation was required to meet the interest and maturities in that district.

Joe E. Anderson, owner of the lands on either side of the Winkler slab, says he will be glad to provide any right-of-way for improvement or draining from ditches alongside the slab. He is constructing a new home at Winkler and plans to move there as soon as possible.

To reach the Winkler slab from Corsicana, use Highway 287 to the end of the concrete pavement east of Eureka and then follow the sandy road to the crossing.

Change In Athletic Facilities Approved
A proposed vast change in athletic facilities at the Corsicana High School was approved in general at the board of education's meeting Tuesday night but action on the working out of details was postponed.

The athletic plan was wholeheartedly endorsed by the Corsicana Dad's Club at its regular monthly meeting Monday night. It calls for a 440-yard track around Tiger Field, alteration of football practice on the field by moving grid drill sessions to the softball field on the high school grounds, and the transfer of facilities at the high school to a large lot immediately west of William B. Travis school. The latter would accommodate the high school baseball program, the American Legion's program, and the summer softball program by the city softball association.

Board members voiced their support for the program, leaving until a later date action on its detailed operations.

Rules Changed
Customers who sit so long at the municipal domino table that others wonder if maybe they are home-sleazing the plot were startled Wednesday to note the rules had changed.

A neat, blue and white sign had been nailed to the wall in the firemen's waiting room where the firemen's domino table is located. It read:

"NOTICE: Dept. Rules: LOSERS 2 out of 3 games GET UP."
In very small letters was "Thanks."

Parents of Son.
Mr. and Mrs. Grady Kelly of El Paso announce the arrival of a son, Richard Albert, on Tuesday weighing nine pounds.

Mrs. Kelly was the former Miss Ouida Watson, who taught home-making at Junior High School several years ago.

The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Watson of Barstow.

FUTURE FARMERS ARE HAILED BY OFFICIAL AT ROTARY MEETING

There is no place for the word "alibi" in the vocabulary of the youth working hard at his Future Farmer of America duties. W. E. Lowry of Austin, executive director of vocational agriculture, state department of education, said Wednesday at a specialized program of the Corsicana Rotary club at the Navarro Hotel.

Lowry was here to make presentation of a Lone Star Farmer degree key to Sen. James E. Taylor of Kerens who also is public relations director for the Texas Manufacturers Association, and recently involved in a lawsuit seeking to force him from office.

Key, vested to Taylor, of the Corsicana district voted the key to the Kerens senator.

"As I stood in Italy on the hills of Salerno, a general pinned the silver star on me," Sen. Taylor said. "I am prouder of this."

The meeting was in the hands of Navarro county Future Farmers.

Renfro Presided.
Billy Joe Renfro of Dawson presided. Making reports and giving the Future Farmers creed, discussing of projects and community service, Wm. E. Lowry of Kerens, Truman Phillips of Kerens, Bobby Harold McGraw of Blooming Grove and Richard Gaines of Mildred.

Willis Moon, director of the program, introduced Lonnie Samuel of Arlington, area director of vocational agriculture, who discussed the work both in Navarro county and the state as a whole.

He said vocational agriculture classes were conducted at Frost, Mildred, Kerens, Blooming Grove, Dawson and the State Home.

W. J. Moore, vocational agricultural teacher at Dawson, also was a guest.

Friend of Education.
Lowry told Taylor, in describing him as a "long time friend of education," that he was happy to know that the Future Farmers of your district want you to wear this key."

Guests at the luncheon included Kelly, Renfro and Bill Davis Junior Rotarians; Orval Pirle of Athens and David Yates of Vernon, visiting Rotarians; J. N. Adams, B. H. Hill of Chicago, and Quinton Andrews, former Corsicana resident.

Local Rent Control Office Warns Some Increases Illegal

The Corsicana area rent control office, comprising three counties, is prepared to go to court to seek injunctions against landlords to prohibit them from making illegal overcharges. Charlie Lockhart, area rent director, said Wednesday. Lockhart made the statement in revealing that some landlords have started collecting increases in rent up to 15 percent without entering into a valid written lease.

The office is empowered to seek the injunctions, and to call upon the landlords to restore the amounts charged in excess of the legal rent, Lockhart said.

Tenants May Sue
He also advised tenants that under the new law they may sue the landlords for the excess times the amount of the overcharges, or $50, whichever is greater.

The lease clause of the federal law requires that rents may be increased up to, but not more than, 15 percent if landlords and tenants voluntarily enter into a valid written lease in good faith. The leases will be effective only if they are in writing and signed by both the landlord and tenant on or before Dec. 31. A copy of it must be filed with the area rent office here within 15 days after the date of signing. An oral agreement is not valid.

Lockhart cited several types of situations in which landlords in this area are violating the lease provisions of the law. They included:

Violations Cited
1. Some landlords apparently feel that it is not necessary to sign a lease if the tenant is willing to pay the additional 15 percent.

FIVE INJURED IN LUBBOCK EXPLOSION WEDNESDAY NIGHT

LUBBOCK, Tex., Oct. 16.—(AP)—An explosion in a cold storage plant and banana vault of a produce house here late yesterday injured five persons, demolished the plant and heavily damaged automobiles in the vicinity.

Seriously injured were C. S. Hudgens, 43, partner in the produce house, and Grant Dew, 45, an employee. Hudgens suffered second degree burns about the face, head and neck. Dew had a severe skull fracture and multiple cuts on the face, right arm and shoulder and both legs.

Others injured were Theodore Wenderhorn, 37, and his daughter, Judy Mae, 6, who were standing in front of the plant, and O. A. Graves, 61, whose pelvis was broken. All are Lubbock residents.

Firemen Search Wreckage
Firemen dug into the wreckage with their bare hands seeking any other persons in the debris, until heavy machinery arrived to help.

Automobiles in the vicinity were heavily damaged by the concussion and flying brick and glass. Firemen expressed belief that ethylene gas used in ripening bananas had exploded in the heavily built-up vault.

The blast blew the roof loose, lifted it several feet into the air and as part of the walls fell outward, it came crashing down into the produce house.
